Palm Sunday
Cycle A

The Passion shows us a painful truth: our faith can easily become conditional. We follow Jesus when it is easy...but struggle to remain when it is hard. And yet, in the face of our inconsistency, Jesus remains faithful.

Even when He is betrayed, He does not stop loving.

Even when He is denied, He does not turn away.

Even when He is rejected, He continues to give Himself – completely, freely, and lovingly on the Cross.

While our hearts waver, His heart remains steadfast.

Today, we ask for the grace to remain.

To remain when faith is difficult.

To remain when the Cross becomes real in our lives.

To remain when following Jesus asks for sacrifice, surrender, and trust.

And so we pray, from the depths of our fragile but hopeful hearts:

“Lord, help me to stay... even when following You is difficult.”

Amen.
